Mr. Colm McCarthy,
Chairman of the Review Group on State Assets and Liabilities,
Department of Finance,
Upper Merrion Street,
Dublin 2

3 August 2010

Dear Mr. McCarthy

I refer to your letter of 23 July 2010 regarding the Review Group on State Assets and Liabilities.

The Office of the Revenue Commissioners is an integral part of the civil service and any assets and liabilities we have are managed and accounted for in that context. For example, the property we occupy is owned or leased for us by the Office of Public Works. Our principal liabilities would be superannuation, which is administered by the Paymaster General's Office and funded from the central superannuation Vote.

Accordingly, as I understand your terms of reference, Revenue has no significant assets and liabilities.

Yours sincerely

Josephine Feehily
